

ZINC 2010

Clarion Hotel Cork Ireland September 17th – 19th

STUDENT SPONSORSHIP INFORMATION

The IAEG is offering sponsorship for 5 students to attend ZINC 2010.

IAEG sponsored participation includes the opportunity to attend the short course on Friday 17th September, admittance to the Ice-Breaker Reception on Friday evening and includes admittance to the technical sessions, poster session and exhibitions throughout the weekend. The IAEG will contribute towards accommodation costs for two nights in Cork city and students may avail of the option to attend the Gala Dinner on Saturday night.

As part of this incentive, students chosen as IAEG representatives may be asked to provide general assistance on behalf of the IAEG during the weekend. IAEG sponsorship provides a unique opportunity to make contacts that will assist with furthering your careers globally. Participation in an event of this calibre is a significant asset for the Curriculum Vitae of any keen geology student/ graduate planning to pursue a long-term career in the minerals industry.

To apply please send a half page summary of why you think you should attend ZINC 2010 and what benefits you think you will gain by attending this major international conference. Please also include your name, contact details and a brief description of your current position (undergraduate /postgraduate), and research project or primary field of interest where applicable.

You must be an IAEG student member to avail of this opportunity. Student membership is 15 Euro; please go to www.iaeg.org for further details on the benefits of becoming an IAEG member.

Applications should be emailed to Matthew at, students@zinc2010.com no later than Friday 16th July 2010.
