

SEG Foundation Student-Dedicated Field Course
Itinerary (to be updated as details solidify)
Iberian Pyrite Belt
May 12 – May 19, 2012

Ninth in the series of SEG Foundation-sponsored student field courses and will emphasize the geology and ore deposits of the Iberian Pyrite Belt, spanning the Iberian Peninsula of southern Portugal and southwestern Spain.

Field Course Leaders:

Dr. William X. Chávez, Jr., New Mexico Institute of Mining and Technology
Dr. Erich U. Petersen, University of Utah

| | |
|----------------------------------|---|
| 12 May Saturday | PM (specific time to be determined) Assemble for Safety and Logistics Meeting in Lisboa, Portugal; specific location yet to be determined Lodging: Lisboa; specific location yet to be determined |
| 13 May Sunday | Travel day to Sevilla area Lodging: Sevilla; specific location yet to be determined |
| 14 – 18 May Mon.-Fri. | Mine visits anticipated in the following order: Las Cruces VMS system immediately west of Sevilla Rio Tinto (Tuesday) Aguas Tenidas (Wednesday) Neves corvo (Thursday) Aljustrel (Friday) Lodging: each day's specific location yet to be determined |
| 19 May Saturday | Field Course concludes in Lisboa; participants may plan to depart today or thereafter |

Travel throughout the duration of the course will be via charter bus (mobile classroom).

Inquiries may be directed to: studentprograms@segweb.org

Advancing Science & Discovery

www.segweb.org

SEG

7811 Shaffer Parkway
Littleton, CO 80127-3732, USA
Tel. +1.720.981.7882
Fax +1.720.981.7874
