SEG Michael J. Fitzgerald Student Mapping Course

The Society of Economic Geologists, Inc. is pleased to announce the offering of the first Michael J. Fitzgerald Student Mapping Course. Michael ("Mike") J. Fitzgerald, a University of Minnesota graduate, long supported field-based geologic studies by undergraduate and graduate students. Through a generous donation from his trust, SEG is funding a week-long mapping course open to ACTIVE SEG Student Members (upper-division undergraduate and graduate students) and SEG Recent Graduate Members. Participation is limited to 15 participants, and applicants must meet the following requirements:

- Must be an active SEG Student member or Recent Graduate member of the Society of Economic Geologists, Inc.
- Applicants must have completed at least one field mapping course (field camp not necessary)

Note: Selection of participants is competitive; travel grants are awarded only to qualifying students.
